BELGIAN AND DUTCH MONARCHS OFFER TO MEDIATE FOR PEACE

King Leopold and Queen Wilhelmina Make Joint Proposal to Great Britain, France and Germany—Steps Taken to Defend Their Borders as German Forces Mass Nearby

THE HAGUE, Nov. 7 (CP-Havas).—Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands, and Leopold, King of the Belgians, acted tonight to restore peace to Europe, or, barring that, to prepare their own realms for a common stand against invasion.

The two monarchs, who tried in vain to stave off the war on the eve of its outbreak, ended an unexpected two-day meeting here by proffering their good offices anew this time toward a peace conference.

In joint telegrams to King George VI, President Lebrun and Chancellor Hitler, they pleaded for a halt before Western Europe was bathed in blood, and asked permission to "facilitate, by all means in our power . . . the quest for the elements of an eventual agreement."

That the peace bid was dictated at least in part by the sovereigns' fear that their own little kingdoms would be swept into the maelstrom was indicated by the following developments:

1. The Hague Government extended martial law to key communities in three German border provinces, thus bringing all the Netherlands under the emergency regime applied November 1 to the eight other provinces.

2. The official statement disclosing that telegrams had been sent to the British, French and German governments.

California and Ohio Opposing Pensions Plans

Voters Refuse to Support Costly "Ham and Eggs" Proposals for Aged Persons—New York Votes for Pari-Mutuel Betting—Tammany Comeback

THE "ham and eggs" old age pension plan was getting the worst of it in California, early returns from the United States' off-year elections indicated last night after pension advocates in Ohio had conceded defeat.

The returns showed a proposal to legalize horse racing under the pari-mutuel system had won easily in New York State, where such wagers traditionally have been prohibited.

The California pension plan trailed badly. The vote in 1937 was 5,979 for and 11,165 against. In 1938, the vote was 11,165 for and 22,811 against.

OTTAWA, Nov. 7 (CP).—The entire Canadian coal and coke industry will be subject to Government licensing on December 1, it was announced tonight by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, under the chairmanship of Hector B. McKinnon.

No company or individual will be permitted to operate without a licence, with the order applying to manufacturers, importers, exporters, producers, jobbers, wholesalers and retailers of coal and coke, which includes all types of coal, including lignite, and all coals, including those manufactured from petroleum.

The licensing plan will be administered by J. McE. Stewart, Canadian coal administrator, and his technical adviser, Frank G. Neale.

TO PROTECT PUBLIC The licence system has been adopted "to keep the Government adequately informed of the situation surrounding the production, importation and distribution of coal; to assure an adequate distribution of coal; and to protect the public against any undue advance in price," the announcement said.

"From December 1, coal and coke dealers, importers and exporters and producers will all report to the administrator the amount of coal and coke on hand or in transit; the quantities sold or distributed each month; the prices charged; and any further information which the board may require," the board stated.

SPREAD RAPIDLY Discovered at 9:30 p.m. by men working on the premises, the fire apparently originated in one of the six truck sheds situated near the waterfront. Spreading quickly to the adjacent oil storage shed, in which were a number of drums of oil, and fanned by a strong wind, the blaze rapidly gutted the sheds.

Company workers managed to save five out of the six trucks inside the sheds, one being destroyed. The Comox company had a big loss, and the fire was successful in confining the fire to the sheds.

CAUSE OF THE FIRE Cause of the fire could not be ascertained last night. The destroyed truck, valued when new at $17,000, was believed to be covered by insurance. J. W. Clark also had his private car damaged while one of the salvaged trucks was being taken out of the shed.

Half an hour after the fire was discovered the buildings were in ruins, with the fire still smouldering.

BRITISH AND POLISH WARSHIPS DRIVE OFF NAZI PLANE ATTACK

German Aircraft Repulsed by Gunfire When Sighted Off Shetland Islands, and Other Machines Escape When Attacked by Royal Air Force Patrols Over North Sea

Lord Halifax Outlines War Aims in General Terms

LONDON, Nov. 7 (CP).—British warships, aided by Polish destroyers, fought off an attack by German planes today in the North Sea. The Admiralty said the vessels suffered no damage and "the enemy's casualties were not known."

Earlier in the day German planes were driven out to sea by anti-aircraft gunfire when they were sighted over the Shetland Islands, north of Scotland. Several other German planes were attacked by Royal Air Force patrols many miles out over the North Sea, but they escaped in clouds and mist. All the British planes returned safely.

IMPOSSIBLE TO ACCEDE TO GRANT GANDHI'S DEMAND

British Government Unable to Grant Gandhi's Demand For an Election in India

LONDON, Nov. 7 (CP).—The British Government "find it impossible" to grant Mohandas K. Gandhi's demands for election of a constituent assembly to create an independent India without British intervention, the Marquess of Zetland, Secretary of State for India, told the House of Lords today.

He expressed regret of His Majesty's Government and the Viceroy of India at failure of consultations between representatives of the Congress party on the one hand and the All-India Muslim League on the other.

MUST HONOR OBLIGATIONS "The long-standing British connection with India has left His Majesty's Government with obligations toward her which it is impossible for them to shed by disinterested themselves wholly in shaping her future form of government," Lord Zetland said.

The Congress party's proposal "for summary abandonment" by Britain of its position in India "would be far from acceptable to a large section of the India population."

"But this does not mean that we have in any sense weakened in our determination to assist India, by such means as are in our power, to reach without avoidable delay a position in the British Commonwealth of Nations to which we are pledged."

"Meanwhile, the position at the moment is that in Bengal, Punjab and elsewhere, the British Government must be prepared to face the consequences of the situation."

NUMBER NOT STATED The British designer could not say how many of the fleet seventy-foot craft will be built in Canada. The vessel, which he hopes will wipe out the submarine menace, draws only three feet of water and cannot be mined or torpedoed.

THE CREW, seven men and an officer, can live aboard at sea in any weather, and the boat has a cruising range of more than 2,000 miles at a patroling speed of nine knots. Running at twenty-two knots, its cruising radius is more than 1,000 miles.

ITS TOP speed is well over forty knots, Scott-Paine said, and it is armed with four eighteen-inch torpedoes.

TWO MOTORCYCLISTS ARE SAFE IN NORTH Two young Rochester, Minn., men, "Slim" Williams and Jim Logan, who left Fairbanks early in September on motorcycles to travel the route of the proposed Alaska Highway and for whose safety fears were held, arrived at Belvoir Ranch, fifty miles north of Hazelton today, according to word received at Provincial Police headquarters here.

They had not been heard from since September 24, when they were at a place forty-seven miles southeast of Hazelton, according to a report from the Hazelton Police.

SCHOLARSHIP IS PRESENTED

A. N. O'Neill Given Kiwanis Club Award at Luncheon Meeting

After Norman O'Neill, of Prince Rupert, was yesterday presented with a cheque for $100, awarded annually by the Kiwanis Club to a male student for general proficiency in the second year at Victoria College. The presentation was made by Dr. E. J. Willis, deputy minister of education, at the luncheon meeting of the club in the Empress Hotel. Dr. Willis referred to the good work that was being done by the pupils who had been helped by the scholarships at a time when the money meant a great deal to them. The good work of Victoria College, with its 337 students in attendance, was also mentioned.

In the selection of a candidate for the scholarship, not only scholastic ability but also qualities of leadership and character were taken into account.

The recipient expressed his appreciation of the gift, and added his thanks to Professor Percy Elliott, of the college staff, and the Kiwanis Club for making the scholarship possible.

CLUB IS THANKED
Professor Elliott voiced his thanks to the club for the very substantial help it had given to the college, and for the scholarship that was made available. The staff felt that it had behind it the active sympathy of a body of businessmen in the Kiwanis Club, he declared.

The college was allowed to go its own way without interference from the university except, of course, in the matter of examinations. Professor Elliott explained. The institution was unique in this respect. He said the club was making no mistake in assisting the young scholar. Professor E. S. Farr, of the college staff, was also present.

Dr. Richard Felton made an appeal for the Red Cross fund and the Community Chest, referring particularly to the work of the Children's Aid Society.

The list of nominees for office, to be selected at the next meeting, was adopted, with the exception that A. Dowell withdrew his name from the nomination for treasurer.

WARSHIPS DRIVE OFF NAZI PLANE ATTACK

as a good backdrop to their sudden intervention.

DEFENCE OF FREEDOM
Lord Halifax told the nation: "We are fighting in defence of freedom. We are fighting for peace. We are meeting the challenge of our own security and that of others. We are defending the rights of all nations to live their own lives."

"We are fighting," went on the Foreign Secretary, "against the substitution of brute force for law as an arbiter between nations; against the violations of the sanctity of treaties and disregard of the pledged word."

"We have learned that there can be no opportunity for Europe to cultivate the arts of peace until Germany is brought to realize that recurrent acts of aggression will not be tolerated."

"It must accordingly be our resolve not only to protect the future from a repetition of the same injuries that German aggression has inflicted on Europe in these last few years, but also, as far as we can, repair the damage successfully wrought by Germany on weaker neighbors."

Lord Halifax predicted success for the Allies in proving to the world the supreme folly with which the German Government has moved to its own destruction.

As to any future "international system" of European states, he said: "No paper plan will endure that does not freely spring from the will of the peoples which alone can give it life."

"We need not deny the limitations set to what physical force alone can do, but recognition of this truth should never blind us to the fact that if for fear of the tragedy of war, we rest inert before an action which we hold evil, we are surely surrendering to the annihilation of spiritual values. We are not alone in these beliefs and aspirations."

U.S. POLICY IS UNDER HAMMER
If the United States attempted to "encircle Japan" by taking the Dutch East Indies under its protection, Asahi cited Ambassador Grew's recent speech in which he warned of American displeasure at Japan's policy in China; the proposed expansion of the United States Navy, and Senator Key Pittman's statement proposing an embargo against Japan, and then said:

"ARROGANT NATION"
"The United States conceitedly considers itself the greatest power on earth. This arrogant nation now proposes to deal with Japan through expanded naval power and economic pressure. It is plain that this (naval expansion) is aimed at satisfying the desire of making Americanism the greatest doctrine in the world."

Yomiuri said it had heard reports Germany was preparing to invade The Netherlands, in which case the Dutch East Indies would require foreign protection. The paper predicted United States would assume the role of protector.

"The report that The Netherlands has asked the United States to keep watch on the East Indies should not be regarded as a mere rumor," the paper said.

Alan Chambers Answers Complaint Of Saanich Over Mainland Gravel for Airport

The Saanich Council last night received letters from four public men regarding the council's complaint that gravel was brought from the Mainland for use at the Patricia Bay airport, when the material was obtainable in the municipality.

R. W. Mayhew, M.P., to whom the council wrote, replied that Patricia Bay was not in his riding, and he had turned the matter over to J. S. Taylor, M.P. for Nanaimo. Mr. Taylor wrote that he had complained to the Ministers of Transport and Public Works at Ottawa, seeking responsibility for the action and asking that it be not repeated.

Alan Chambers informed the council in his letter, that the contract for the runways had been let to Dawson, Wade & Company at a figure of $235,000, by public tender; and it was his understanding that it was impossible to obtain the quality and quantity of material required in either North or South Saanich or at Albert Head. The contractors, therefore, were compelled to obtain it from the Mainland.

N. W. Whittaker, M.P.P., informed the council that he was considering the matter.

PENSIONS PLANS ARE DEFEATED

For every Ohio voter who favored Herbert S. Bigelow's proposal to tax land and incomes to guarantee $40 or $50 a month to every retired citizen over sixty there were three who opposed it. Returns from 4,834 of the state's 8,589 precincts gave for the pension plan, 246,980; against 808,587.

In Kentucky, partial returns had Governor Keen Johnson (Democrat) running well ahead in his race for election to the office he reached recently through resignation of Governor A. B. (Happy) Chandler to take a place in the Senate. His opponent was Circuit Judge King Swope.

MAYORAL ELECTIONS
Important mayoral elections were showing the following trends:

Republicans appeared to have retained their traditional hold on the Philadelphia City Hall. Their candidate, Robert E. Lamberton, was running well ahead of Robert C. White, Democrat.

In Detroit election of Edward J. Jeffries was conceded by Mayor Richard W. Reading, elected two years ago over sharp Congress of Industrial Organization opposition. The election there was non-partisan.

Harold H. Burton was re-elected to his third term as Mayor of Cleveland over John E. O'Donnell. Both are Republicans and were nominated in a non-partisan primary.

Jasper McLevy, Socialist, was re-elected Mayor of Bridgeport, Conn., polling more votes than three rival candidates combined.

Continued Republican control of New Jersey's Legislature was virtually assured for 1940.

TAMMANY TRIUMPHS
Although parliament, betting was the only issue of wide importance in New York interest was heightened by Tammany claims of a smashing comeback after defeat at the polls in recent years by the LaGuardia Republican-Fusionists and in the courts by Republican District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, who prosecuted several leaders. The party claimed its candidates in yesterday's balloting had been elected "by an overwhelming plurality."

If the United States attempted to "encircle Japan" by taking the Dutch East Indies under its protection, Asahi cited Ambassador Grew's recent speech in which he warned of American displeasure at Japan's policy in China; the proposed expansion of the United States Navy, and Senator Key Pittman's statement proposing an embargo against Japan, and then said:

"ARROGANT NATION"
"The United States conceitedly considers itself the greatest power on earth. This arrogant nation now proposes to deal with Japan through expanded naval power and economic pressure. It is plain that this (naval expansion) is aimed at satisfying the desire of making Americanism the greatest doctrine in the world."

Yomiuri said it had heard reports Germany was preparing to invade The Netherlands, in which case the Dutch East Indies would require foreign protection. The paper predicted United States would assume the role of protector.

"The report that The Netherlands has asked the United States to keep watch on the East Indies should not be regarded as a mere rumor," the paper said.

Observer Missing When Naval Plane Crashes Into Sea

HONOLULU, Nov. 7 (AP)—A United States naval observation plane burst into flames in diving practice, and crashed into the sea off Barber's Point yesterday. The observer was missing, but his companion was saved.

The pilot, picked up after he had stayed afloat for forty minutes, was Lieut. (Junior Grade) W. B. Wallis. He suffered only slight burns.

The observer was identified as Chief Aviationist Mate W. T. Rhodes, of San Diego, Cal.

CO-ORDINATED EFFORT

The Ottawa Journal has been commenting on the agencies, boards and bureaus that continue to grow in number because of wartime conditions. With a Wartime Prices Board there are as well a controller of sugar and one of wool, and a controller of coal to be appointed. There is a War Supply Board and other organizations of a bureaucratic character, and The Journal, very rightly, questions the necessity for them all. It questions, too, the possibility that anyone has "anything like a clear picture of their work from day to day." It believes that wartime economy in its essentials is but a projection of peace time economy, and doubts if those men summoned to Ottawa to sit on boards, bureaus and agencies have sufficient knowledge of peacetime economy "to permit them to fit into their jobs with speedy efficiency."

The Journal asks what is the connecting link between the War Supply Board and the Cabinet, between the Board and the Department of National Defence, and what is the link between all three? There is a possibility that they are working in water-tight compartments. It does not criticize the men who have been appointed to various wartime duties, merely asking if so many boards and bureaus are necessary, and if they are, if their work is being co-ordinated. Close to the seat of Government as it is, The Journal must be well informed on the expansion of bureaucratic activities. Its suggestion is that there should be one Cabinet Minister, divorced from departmental work, who should be charged solely with the Government's war business; that he should oversee and dovetail, where possible, the work of the various boards and bureaus, and should be a connecting link between them and the Cabinet. The suggestion is useful. Administration grows more complicated all the time, most complicated of all in time of war. There may well be divided effort in what Canada is doing, and there should be something in the nature of co-ordination where so many boards and bureaus are concerned, as well as a close examination to determine if such a plethora of them is essential to the best conduct of this country's part in the struggle.

ITALIAN CABINET CHANGES

The significance of the changes in the Italian Cabinet may well prove far-reaching. What they unquestionably indicate is a weakening of the Rome-Berlin Axis. Three years ago, when that Axis appeared to be unbreakable, M. Achille Starace was made secretary of the Fascist Party, and M. Dino Alfieri, Minister of Propaganda. These two were strong adherents of Nazism. They riveted the bolts of the Axis and even out-herded Herr Hitler as exponents of totalitarian rule. A series of events has brought about a change in whatever influence they exert in Italian affairs. The strength of the Axis received its first blow when Germany, without consultation with Signor Mussolini, annexed Austria by peaceful conquest. A stronger blow still was struck against Italian friendship with Berlin when Italy, after throwing her weight into the contest against Communism in the Civil War in Spain, saw Germany sign a non-aggression pact with Moscow. The Nazi-Communist agreement has awakened Italy more than anything else, to the dangers arising out of her friendship with the Third Reich.

Now the strongest Italian links with Berlin, in the persons of M. Starace and Alfieri have been removed from the Cabinet. The former has been appointed chief of Fascist Militia. M. Alfieri is to become an ambassador, but no such post has been found for him yet. There are other changes which have demoted those who have been strong exponents of the German-Italian alliance. The new secretary of the Fascist Party is M. Ettore Masi, who volunteered for service in the Spanish Civil War and fought for nearly three years against influences which are now hand and glove with Germany. The outcome is that Italy is drifting farther and farther away from the Rome-Berlin Axis. It now appears certain that there is no intention in Rome, whatever happens, to fight on the side of Herr Hitler in the present War.

A UNITED EMPIRE

Neutral and enemy countries alike will find food for reflection in the address broadcast the other day by Mr. T. A. Crerar, who occupies the important position of leader of the Canadian delegation to the Empire conference in London. Mr. Crerar stated that Canada has entered the War as one of the free nations of the Empire, prepared to fight with Great Britain to the end for the maintenance of a decent world order. He thus laid impressive emphasis upon the fact that the Empire is no totalitarian State, summoned its regimented citizens and compelling them to serve, willy nilly, as indentured servants or dutiful retainers.

The rulers of Germany will have no difficulty in recognizing the deep resentment aroused in Canada by the gangster morals of their regime, a resentment deep enough to impel nations in far distant lands to rise in arms in defence of decent government. If Herr Hitler has time for reflection, he must surely be troubled with doubts as to whether compulsion, clamped down upon a submissive people, is really as desirable a thing as voluntary co-operation based upon the free activity of human judgment. If Mr. Crerar's speech, or any echo of it, is allowed to reach the ears of the German people themselves, they will have difficulty in continuing to believe "what their masters have told them of the approaching dissolution of the British Empire."

Neutral observers, particularly those in democratic countries, will fully appreciate the implication in Mr. Crerar's speech that Canada voluntarily places herself at Great Britain's side, and thus acknowledges the leadership of the Mother Country and her stimulating example in this crusade. As for the effect of the speech throughout the Empire, it may be taken for granted that the inner thoughts and emotions of Canadians at the present juncture are more concerned with considerations of imperial solidarity and affection than with abstract notions about Dominion autonomy and the Statute of Westminster.

RIGHT ABOUT TURN

The instability of principles in the doctrine of Communism is illustrated by the events of the last few months. At the end of August, in Great Britain, the Communist party there was very apprehensive lest aid would not be given to Poland in the event of aggression on the part of Germany. On the outbreak of War the Communist Daily Worker declared it to be "a war that can and must be won." That organ called for a conference of all democratic Powers, including the Socialist Soviet Union and the United States, to obtain the fullest co-operation in winning the War. "The people will fight to win the war," said the party organ on September 5, "by every means in their power." The Central Committee of the Communist Party of Great Britain declared that it had never hidden, and never would hide its detestation of Fascism, and its readiness to take part in any struggle, military or political, to secure its defeat.

Then the Russian Army moved into Poland, and Messrs. Stalin and Hitler combined in a peace movement. This altered the Communist outlook altogether. The Central Committee of the British Communist Party issued a statement declaring that "the workers have no interest in this unjust war." It is "not a war for democracy against Fascism. It is not a war for the liberty of small nations. It is not a war for the defence of peace against aggression. This war is a fight between Imperialistic Powers for profits, colonies and world domination."

Thus Communism can somersault in doctrine to serve its ends. The logic of the situation is that Communists within the democratic States that are at war are enemies of the country wherein they live. The right-about turn of the supporters of Russia in their attitude towards Fascism and Nazism probably explains the character of the speeches delivered by certain members of the British Columbia Legislature in the course of the present session.

WOMAN'S FRANCHISE IN QUEBEC

One likelihood arising out of the recent election in Quebec is that women will get the vote in that Province. The new Premier-elect, Mr. Godbout, has promised to introduce a Bill extending the provincial franchise to women. They have had the vote in Federal elections since 1920, but Administration after Administration in Quebec has opposed the extension of it to the provincial arena. Even now, with the forthcoming Government in favor of a more liberal interpretation of what democracy means, it does not follow that the female franchise is as good as won. In a bicameral Legislature there is always the possibility of a women's franchise measure, though passed by the Legislative Assembly, being killed in the Upper House (the Legislative Council), which has shown itself in the past a consistently conservative body. There is a hope, however, that women's franchise provincially will be won in the French-Canadian Province. The latest public verdict there shows that Quebec is moving with the times.

THE LIFE OF THE SPIRIT

Show me what security I have that my wife, my children should not suffer from some unexpected outbreak of devil, what other wives and children have suffered, and then I shall sleep quiet, without longing that they were free of a world where such things are possible. You may think me unkind for having such thoughts. My experience is that when they come one must face them, do battle with them deliberately, be patient with them for a while. For by such means men live in these is the life of the spirit.—Charles Kingsley (1857).

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

The Vancouver Board of Trade and other agencies are appealing to Ottawa to have British Columbia's open-Winter flying opportunities counted in on the Empire programme of flight training. There is a great deal of practical common sense behind the representations. The number of flying-hours that anyone will do in Canada during Winter months will depend on the actual hours of flying weather. British Columbia has a known climate, higher in the percentage of its flying days than perhaps any other province in the Dominion.

After all, Link trainers and the other appearances of ground schools, including motors, theory of flight, navigation, gunnery, and the rest, can be set up in any place in the Empire. It is the flying itself, the weather conditions generally become all important. Whatever may be the case in regard to manufactures, with respect to actual flying British Columbia's case is 100 per cent good. We have the flying weather, twelve months in the year.

As this column has stated before, it believes Canada's plan of ground, elementary, intermediate and advanced flight training is sound and practical. It notes with interest that the period of training has been cut down from a theoretical year to a reasonable mean; but not sacrificed to the like-and-a-promise three months that had high-pitched use in the face of keener emergencies in the late war. Training squadrons are assured of good instructors and the best of material for flight candidates, with an Empire to draw from in both respects. In short, the plan can be a major contribution to the Allied cause in the present conflict; perhaps a decisive one.

Service flying, on the other hand, will be confined to only two general classes of aircraft: water-landing machines and wheeled craft. Water-landing craft can make little use of ice-covered rivers and bays. Wheeled aircraft are hampered by snow and ice freezes up their dromes; leaving snow-packing and skis as the chief alternatives. But skis will not be used on active service. Open water and open ground take on new meaning when the winter snow and ice comes. British Columbia has both to offer; with a diversity of opportunity where land and water craft may be combined on the same site. Nor is there anything in this that is not already known.

It would clear the air considerably, and satisfy the valid and reasonable interest British Columbia is showing in the case, to have the Dominion open a little more fully some of the details of the flight training plans. When and where, beyond what is already visible, will the plan be set working; what sea and land bases will be used; where and what proportion of the total scheme will be carried out in each province? These are the questions being asked, not alone by Boards of Trade, but by the public. This column does not doubt that the answers will be forthcoming, and that they will be found reasonable.

A scheme as large as the one contemplated by way of an Empire flight pool in Canada, will require some time to organize completely. Adequate preparations now will mean less trouble later, when the whole scheme is in operation. Some little publicity will be needed, all round British Columbia and other provinces, to see that the plan is in a position to help if they are told what is going to take place. At present, there is more expectation than precise knowledge of the scheme here in the West. The scheme is being working weather that is required. British Columbia can help.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Colonist of November 8, 1889.
Street Cars Arrive—Two handsome street cars for the Victoria Electric Railway arrived by the steamer Kithit yesterday morning, and drew many a curious visitor to the C.P.N. Co.'s wharf during the day. The new cars are well and substantially built, with bodies almost feet long. All the inside work is of ash, with trimmings of cherry and trimmings of solid polished brass. The seats are of the shaped and perforated pattern, and each car has twelve double and four end windows. The motor trucks are under the car and between the trucks are the seats. The seating capacity is thirty to forty, while in a pinch sixty passengers can be crowded on board by the "move up" process.

An Ocean Race—The steamer City of Sydney, for San Francisco, left the Orient the same time as the steamer Parbha, laden with silk, and it is understood that there will be a race to reach the New York markets. The chances are so far in favor of the all-Canadian route by several days.

A.O.W. Lodge—E. J. Wall, of this city, has been appointed District Deputy Grand Master Workman of the A.O.W.U. of Victoria district by T. A. Stephen, Grand Master Workman of the Grand Lodge of Oregon and Washington.

Port Alberni Council Told of Plans to Organize Red Cross Society

PORT ALBERNI, Nov. 7.—At the weekly council meeting last evening, Mayor W. C. Hamilton announced that an organization meeting of the Red Cross for the Alberni district would be held next week in the council chambers. The two cities of Alberni and Port Alberni are working together, and it is expected to have representatives from the whole district.

The subject of property damage on Halloween was taken up, and an inquiry made whether the police had sworn in any extra men for the night. No report had been received from the police, and it was suggested that the police be requested to take some action. No serious damage was reported, but enough to cause many residents certain expenses for repairs.

Contractor was called to time for placing scaffolding on the sidewalks when erecting buildings. It was reported that no application for use of such scaffolding had been made to the city, and it was ordered that where sidewalks are now being obstructed, the builders be ordered to place temporary sidewalks around the obstructions so that pedestrians would not be inconvenienced.

Glancing Over Sport

"Red" Martin comes out in the open and states that he's not playing for Tooles, of the Vancouver Argonauts, after all. The Province used his picture and said so, but apparently "Red" will not take the opportunity to get back into the game as a player at present. Tooles Meretsky, skipper of the Windermere hockey team, has a feather in his cap already. He led his Port Alberni senior "B" basketball team to a close win over Staceys, of the senior Mainland circuit, last week. Tooles told me he was going to try for the provincial title this season.

North Shore, after a sensational display here, must have fallen to pieces when the Radials handed them a 5-1 defeat last week in the Inter-City Football League. The Shore whipped Victoria 7-1, and looked like a perfect machine. It must have gone into reverse against the Dominion titleholders. Al Reynolds pulled a Chasidim off against the field in the hand-picked golf championship at the Cowiok course. He went out in front at the start and closed with a two-length margin over Art Dowell after fifty-four holes of divot.

By the way, it was Art's first trophy victory on a links. One thing is certain at this early stage, the Boston Bruins will miss Eddie Shore—J.D.

It's the Polar Bear in Them!

According to a correspondent to "Ye Olde Trolley Car" he has discovered an ideal way to spend brisk Autumn Sunday morning—a way that is guaranteed to send chills up and down your spine and raise goose pimples the size of golf balls! If you happen to be in the vicinity of Horseshoe Bay about 11 a.m., you will see seven or more "Polar Bears" floundering around in the sea. A well-known Rugby football player was observed to make a wild dash over broken glass and plunge into the water, and head in the general direction of Port Angeles. . . . a sun-tanned and at this time of the year (too) hot. A conductor takes a high dive from the end rock. Frank a regular at the Bay goes through a course of setting-up exercises and then swims out to meet the Vancouver boat. The remainder have observed the icy briny and frolic in the waves, guaranteed to make an Eskimo grateful to a refrigerator to keep warm. Ten minutes of watching these boys makes you feel like a new man and you're all ready to run home and jump into a steaming hot bath. Boy, that's the life!—W.F.

Benito Changes Partners

Mussolini, one time and maybe still a loyal partner of Adolf, has a new hand in Europe's game of black jack. Two years ago the incident of a cabinet reshuffle in Italy might have passed without comment as to its implications. Now so today. The conviction-sharers by the vast majority of your readers is directly antipodal to his. So far as the present crisis has yet developed, its outstanding lesson, deep drawn in every intelligence is that our Allies "voluntarily" all too long and cruelly and oppression of the dictators. Henceforth, the two words, "Munich" and "Appeasement," passing from the concrete to the abstract, will find a place in our every-day parlance.

He buttresses his conviction with the following Scripture: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do" (Luke xxiii, 34). The doctor no doubt knows that the genuineness of the passage is to put it mildly, in dispute. None of the Synopsists but Luke record it, and among the ancient manuscripts, the Vatican, Beza, Italic and Sahidic give it no place. The doctor, in assigning it "the highest pinnacle in Christ's teaching," evidently regards the Sanhedrin as the subjects of our Lord's petition. Such a view would be entirely alien to our Lord's character and teaching. If the genuineness of the passage be conceded, the place it occupies in Luke's narrative, and the sense of the verb, alike show that the prayer was uttered in that moment of intense agony, when the four Roman soldiers, in the performance of what was to them a military duty, were calling our Saviour to the cross. If uttered, as both A. V. and R. V. imply, it was on behalf of those men that the prayer was offered.

Inspector James Murdoch, of Vancouver Police Force, Dies After Short Illness

VANCOUVER, Nov. 7 (CP).—Inspector James Murdoch, fifty-four, veteran Vancouver policeman and member of Canada's Olympic Games team in 1924 died in hospital here today after a brief illness.

Murdoch held the Canadian caber-tossing record of 43 feet 11 inches, and competed in weight-throwing events at the Paris Olympics, although he failed to finish in the top ranks. Murdoch was born in Banffshire, Scotland, and at nineteen years of age joined the Dunfermline police force. Later he was transferred to Glasgow and after serving there for six years came to British Columbia. He joined the Point Grey municipal police as a constable in 1912.

FORCES AMALGAMATED

When Point Grey and South Vancouver districts amalgamated with Vancouver in 1928 Murdoch was made an inspector on the joint force.

Inspector Murdoch was a prominent member of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society and was president of the organization in 1937 and 1938.

He is survived by his widow, two sons and four daughters here, and another son, John, at Blue River, B.C.

TOLERANCE

Sir,—Few issues of The Colonist appear without a report of some address aimed at giving guidance to Christian thought and feeling toward the wrongdoers in the present conflict. The esteem in which the speakers are justly held give added weight to their utterances, and their appeal to Scripture for their basic argument is, or ought to be, "final for confirmation."

Because Dr. Sipprell's address to the Rotary Club is just-universally inter-nutious, may I have the privilege of a few words while it is fresh in mind.

He voiced his conviction that "the lack of tolerance has brought the world to the lamentable position in which it is placed today. My own conviction—shared by the vast majority of your readers—is directly antipodal to his. So far as the present crisis has yet developed, its outstanding lesson, deep drawn in every intelligence is that our Allies "voluntarily" all too long and cruelly and oppression of the dictators. Henceforth, the two words, "Munich" and "Appeasement," passing from the concrete to the abstract, will find a place in our every-day parlance.

He buttresses his conviction with the following Scripture: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do" (Luke xxiii, 34). The doctor no doubt knows that the genuineness of the passage is to put it mildly, in dispute. None of the Synopsists but Luke record it, and among the ancient manuscripts, the Vatican, Beza, Italic and Sahidic give it no place. The doctor, in assigning it "the highest pinnacle in Christ's teaching," evidently regards the Sanhedrin as the subjects of our Lord's petition. Such a view would be entirely alien to our Lord's character and teaching. If the genuineness of the passage be conceded, the place it occupies in Luke's narrative, and the sense of the verb, alike show that the prayer was uttered in that moment of intense agony, when the four Roman soldiers, in the performance of what was to them a military duty, were calling our Saviour to the cross. If uttered, as both A. V. and R. V. imply, it was on behalf of those men that the prayer was offered.

Any plea of ignorance on the part of the Sanhedrin is negatived by Caliph's own appeal to the Sanhedrin (John xi, 47-53), attributed to him expressly by Christ's "Thou shalt it" (Mt. xxvi, 64), and denounced upon before Pilate's judgment seat (John xix, 11).

If the Sanhedrin were not guilty of an unpardonable sin in crucifying our Lord, then His words in Mt. xli, 31, are meaningless and those of the apostle of love in I John v, 16 are equally void of significance.

Only two days previously the Saviour in a torrential flood of scorn and indignation never equalled pronounced sentence of condemnation upon these self-named rulers (Mt. xxiii, 15). What we need most in the present stage of this crisis is more of the spirit of our Divine Exemplar.

varies inversely, as the distance these figures prove Miss Phoebe Riddle to be right. Indeed, personally I do not hesitate to accept any statement of Miss Riddle, knowing her to be an expert mathematician, who weighs her evidence carefully, and is rather too thorough to be easily caught.

Yet it is true we are nearer to the sun in January than in July, and this year we were 3,122,000 miles nearer, which is quite a sizable amount. The Almanac also gives the distance between the sun and earth for each day, but in terms of the near distance. The half of the axis, major, of the earth's ellipse for January 4, at midnight, G.M.T., is 98,323,234; and July 5, midnight, G.M.T., is 1,016,7364.

The near distance is taken as 92,897,416 statute miles. I hope this will bring it back to you, major.

HOME BUILDERS RECEIVE GIFT

Federal Government to Pay Improvement Taxes on New Saanich Houses

Although Christmas is still more than a month away, the Saanich Council was informed last night, in a communication from the director of National Housing, at Ottawa, that all residents of the municipality who have built homes, not exceeding $4,000 in value, since June 1, 1938, will have 100 per cent of the improvement taxes paid the first year, 50 per cent the second, and 25 per cent the third year, paid by the Federal Government.

The legislation was passed by Ottawa some time ago, but Saanich took advantage of the offer only recently.

The offer applies only on houses built for the owner's occupation, and expires on December 31, 1940, or on such earlier date as may be fixed by the Governor in Council. After the three-year period has expired the owner of the house becomes responsible for the full amount of all taxes.

"As a condition for the payment of these taxes, and as evidence of good faith, municipalities (including cities and towns, etc.) owning suitable residential lots must co-operate by signifying their willingness to offer to sell a reasonable number of such lots at not more than $50 per lot," the explanation of the statute read in part. Saanich set aside 100 of these lots when the council signified its intention to take up the offer.

WILL DIRECT WAR BUYING

Board will have extraordinary powers to mobilize and regulate industry, production and other resources in Canada for a concentrated war effort. A statement covering the board's plan of procedure is expected shortly. Not only the purchase of goods but those for the British Government will be handled by the board as agent. Presumably the same would be true of any French orders that might be placed in Canada.

If the task of the supply board assumes proportions indicating necessity for a Ministry of Munitions and Supply the Government is empowered, by an act of the special session of Parliament in September, to set up the extra portfolio with a full time Minister.

HUGE ORDERS PREDICTED
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP)—Great Britain and France will coordinate their war purchases in United States, eliminating competition between them, the British Embassy announced tonight.

It is estimated unofficially the Allies are ready to place $100,000,000 in war orders here in the near future.

The embassy said with regard to co-ordination with France: "A later announcement will be made regarding the necessary co-ordination of British and French purchases in the United States." The embassy thus disclosed a policy in direct contrast with the course followed by the two Allies at the beginning of the war. At that time they had against each other for United States war supplies and raw materials and consequently ran up prices.

The British found that, at times, they were even competing with the Dominions for United States supplies.

Expect Co-operation To Save Important Maritime Industry

Ambrose Forgeron, President of United Maritime Fishermen, Addresses Women's Canadian Club—Problems Are Practical Economics

THE need of co-operation to save and restore the fishing industry of the Maritimes was stressed by Ambrose Forgeron, president of the United Maritime Fishermen, Halifax, in an address yesterday afternoon to the Women's Canadian Club in the Empress Hotel.

Under the title of "Problems of the Fishermen of the Atlantic Coast," the talk gave glimpses of the hardy fisherfolk and the perils and hardships of their occupation. It was a talk of the fisherman's life, of the fisherman's problems, of the fisherman's future, and of the fisherman's present.

ENCOURAGING HISTORY
While the history of the United Maritime Fishermen was shown to have been encouraging, world conditions had affected the market within recent years, and there was more reason than ever for co-operation to be pushed in order to keep the industry going, Mr. Forgeron said.

In less than ten years, it was shown, the United Maritime Fishermen had formed ahead to the point where they had business operations extending from little hamlets to widening spheres of international trade. Through study clubs, co-operative factories, marketing and credit unions, groups of fishermen federated under this plan were exerting beneficial influences far out of proportion to their numbers, and reaching and rehabilitating every fishing hamlet in the three Maritime Provinces. Self respect and ambition had been given back to many communities which had sunk into a lethargy of despair.

Mr. Forgeron told about the instigation of co-operative movement following the Department of Fisheries commission's investigation in 1927 into the deplorable economic conditions among Maritime fishermen. Tribute was paid by the speaker to the part played by Dr. Cody in bringing about the recommended organization and the establishment of adult education and study clubs with the assistance of St. Xavier University.

OWN EFFORTS
The only definite progress that has been made in Nova Scotia has been through the efforts of the fishermen themselves, said the speaker, recalling the effect of the co-operatives. As a very pointed instance of the results of co-operation, he cited the advancing of the market price of lobster from seven cents to twenty-five cents, and the establishment, following knowledge of methods gleaned by the lobster fishermen at their study-club, of lobster canning factories.

Mrs. Allen Peebles moved the vote of thanks.

The president, Mrs. James Adam, announced that Richard Finnie, would address the club next Tuesday on "Seventeenth Century France in Twentieth Century America." The soloist, yesterday was Mrs. Jack Townsend, who, accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Warn, sang "A Rose" set to music.

WAR! The Red Cross swings into action

1. HOSPITALS AND HOSPITAL EQUIPMENT

Hospitals must be built and equipped in England and France to care for the sick and wounded. During the last war the Canadian Red Cross equipped (wholly or in part) hospitals at Taplow, Bushey Park, Ramsgate, Heshill, and Buxton in England; built and equipped one of the largest military hospitals in France; and established a depot in Boulogne for Canadian hospitals.

2. AMBULANCES

From 1914 to 1918 the Canadian Red Cross provided scores of ambulances to convey the sick and wounded in France and England. Now the need for ambulances faces us again. It seems likely that the demand will be greater than during the last war.

3. FOOD AND COMFORTS

Again the Red Cross wishes to be able to send socks, cigarettes, candy and other comforts to the boys at the front. During the last war, 341,323 cases of supplies were sent overseas. The Society sent sixty pounds of food per month to every Canadian prisoner of war, in addition to tobacco, medical supplies, clothing and books. Should the occasion arise, we must be prepared to do so again.

4. SURGICAL SUPPLIES AND DRESSINGS

X-Ray equipment, surgical supplies and dressings must be purchased almost immediately. During the last war thousands of cases of supplies were sent to England and France. Thousands of dollars were contributed to equip a ward in the St. John Ambulance Brigade Hospital at Etaples, France.

5. WAR RELIEF

Hundreds of thousands of Poland refugees in countries adjacent to Poland are in dire need. Through the International Red Cross Society at Geneva, help is being sent to these unfortunate people. Your contribution will help to provide food and clothing during the coming winter.

6. PEACETIME WORK OF THE RED CROSS

The regular work of the Red Cross in Canada must be continued. Outpost hospitals and nursing stations must be maintained and the work of the Red Cross in frontier districts must be carried on. The activities of the Junior Red Cross must be developed. The normal cost of this great effort is a million dollars a year.

WITH THE WAR only a few weeks old, the Canadian Red Cross has already marshalled its forces to save lives, to prevent suffering. Lack of preparedness cost many lives during 1914 and 1915. This time Red Cross facilities must be on the job. Already the need is urgent. The work of equipping hospitals in England and France must be undertaken immediately. Ambulances will be needed. Surgical supplies, X-Ray equipment must be on hand. This work cannot wait.

During the last war, Canadians gave without stint to support the work of the Canadian Red Cross and the British Red Cross. During this war you will be asked to contribute only to the Canadian Red Cross, which will co-operate closely with its parent organization. We are all fighting for the same cause. We will all work together to see that the human side of war is carried on successfully.

Will you support this splendid cause? Will you save a life, help a sick or suffering lad who is far from home, or bring a few comforts to the boys who are in the thick of the fight?

Your loved ones may or may not have to go. But at this time all the boys in khaki are your sons, your brothers. They are fighting for your liberty, protecting your home. If you can't go, give to the Red Cross.

The need is urgent—dig in and give!

START PLANE
CRASH PROBE

Eyewitnesses Say Looping
Machine Flattered in Climb
And Slipped Sideways

SUDBURY, Ont., Nov. 7 (CP).—Federal investigators today started a probe into the most serious accident of nickel belt aviation, a crash which claimed the lives of three district miners.

After falling into a spin in attempting a loop, a red-winged bi-plane yesterday dashed itself to pieces on the shore of a little unnamed lake, half a mile south of Larchwood Road.

The dead are: Ross M. Armstrong, twenty-five, formerly of Manville, Alta.; Frank Church, twenty-seven, formerly of Saint John, N.B.; Donald Lennox, twenty-two, formerly of Redbridge, Ont.

Eyewitnesses said that Armstrong, pilot of the plane, was flying as a hobby, apparently tried vainly to bring the machine out of the spin. It went into its 2,000 feet. The nose of the plane buried itself deep in soft earth.

Before the bodies of the men could be removed from the plane, the cockpit was laid open by axe and hacksaw. Parts of the engine were believed buried four feet.

Ernest Obomowin, a farmer, watched the plane do a loop almost over his house, and then level out to the south for half a mile and start to climb into a second loop.

INQUIRY ORDERED
OTTAWA, Nov. 7 (CP).—An official of the civil aviation branch of the Transport Department said today that details available in department records would be supplied from the Government inquiry ordered into the crash of the airplane at Sudbury yesterday.

Whether or not the plane was licensed at the time of the crash, and other data, would not be made public until the result of the inquiry was made known, it was said.

Dinner Reveals Origins of Lads Studying in England
With Royal Air Force

IAN B. HOY

Ian B. Hoy, who left Victoria in January last seeking service with the Royal Air Force, writing to his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Hoy, of Colquitz, states he is at present qualifying as wireless operator and gunner at Yatesbury, Wiltshire.

A dinner was attended recently by boys training for various air force positions at Yatesbury, and young Hoy mentions the parts of the world from which they came. He writes: "Tuesday was an eventful evening. There was a Colonial supper. Boys from all Dominions and Colonies were present. I would estimate about 180 were there."

"After the supper the commanding officer asked the Canadians to stand up, and much to his surprise two-thirds of the lot stood up. He then asked us to sit down and started with the smaller countries. There were three from the Philippines, one Chinese, two Jamaicans, two South Africans, four East Indians, several Australians, two from New Zealand, one Egyptian, three Newfoundlanders, one Nigerian, one from British Honduras and three Americans."

"Then the commanding officer went through Canada by provinces. From Ontario there were five; Quebec, three; Nova Scotia, two; New Brunswick, two; Saskatchewan, one; Manitoba, two; Alberta, four; and last of all, British Columbia. That's where the crowd got up, and what a cheer there was!" Prince Edward Island and the Yukon were not represented.

Hoy is one of the lads from Western Canada recommended by Captain H. Seymour-Biggs.

Halifax Salvage
Tug Is Alongside
Norwegian Vessel

BOSTON, Nov. 7 (AP).—The Halifax salvage tug Foundation-Franklin arrived beside the disabled 7,000-ton Norwegian freighter Selje shortly before midnight, off St. Pierre Miquelon.

A message to Boston coast guard division headquarters from a cutter, which had been standing by the freighter since midday, said rough seas resulting from an easterly gale prevented immediate efforts to take the Norwegian vessel in tow.

The Selje radioed yesterday that she had lost her propeller.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 7 (CP).—Alderman H. D. The airport committee chairman said his messages urged the president of the aircraft company to confer with British Columbia trade representatives in Ottawa to learn the advantages of Vancouver as a manufacturing and flying base.

Alderman Wilson did not, however, reveal the names of the Vancouver businessman or the aircraft company president.

WOULD VARY B.C. COURTS

Appointment of Women
Magistrates and Juvenile Court Changes Urged

Reorganization of the juvenile courts of the province, and appointment of women magistrates and probation officers in special courts for women offenders, were recommended yesterday by Mrs. Laura E. Jamieson (C.F.P., Vancouver Centre), in an excellent first speech. Ernest Winch (C.F.P., Burnaby), followed, with a review of British Columbia Institutions, in debate adjourned for the day by Tom Uphill (Labor, Fernie). Now a week old, the debate will close today or tomorrow with Premier Pattullo to speak last.

Yesterday, the third day for the C.F.P. legislative group on the main debate, passed without incident, ending with introduction of public and private bills, before adjournment was taken at 4:33 p.m. until 2:30 p.m. today. Major Lyle Telford, sitting as an independent for Vancouver East, is scheduled to follow Mr. Uphill this afternoon.

JUVENILE COURTS

Mrs. Jamieson sketched the history of juvenile courts, established first at Victoria and Vancouver thirty years ago, and now extended to twenty-six areas. She contended that the mission of the courts, which was preventive and not punitive, had not been fully realized or followed up in the senior courts. To cure this, Mrs. Jamieson recommended the amalgamation of twenty-six courts in five juvenile areas, under specially trained judges and probationary personnel. Women's courts for the trial of women offenders, with women police magistrates, were also advocated.

For eleven years a juvenile court judge in Burnaby, Mrs. Jamieson told of her experiences in that capacity. There was a need, she said, of magistrates and probation officers trained in social service work, and operating on a co-ordinated programme, which would eventually change all courts of correction to preventive rather than punitive work.

Citing the case of Arthur Rennie, a youth sentenced recently at Vancouver to be hanged, Mrs. Jamieson said he had been shown to be a young man without emotional control, and with the mentality of a child. Under an adequate juvenile court system such tendencies could be detected and corrected, and crime prevented, she argued. Poor homes and unemotional conditions in the home were responsible for boys and girls making a wrong start in life, Mrs. Jamieson continued. By sympathy and contacts at the proper time, and economic statesmanship, such tendencies could be corrected, and the just method of punitive action eliminated. In closing, the member for Vancouver Centre complimented the Government on acting now to build a new women's jail at Oakalla, contract for which was let yesterday to J. C. Dill for $64,282.

BURNABY NEEDS

Mr. Winch, Sr., asked the Government for aid with a small hospital in Burnaby, spoke of road needs in that riding, and secured from the Minister of Education the pledge that attention would be given afresh to congestion in two high schools there. The Attorney-General congratulated on the institution of the Borstal system; appealing, however, for more segregation of feeble-minded offenders now committed in the first instance to Oakalla.

Backed by extensive charts and graphs that he had worked out himself, Mr. Winch conducted the House on its annual tour of penal and other institutions. In the course of this review he said that of 2,771 prisoners last year at Oakalla, 42 per cent had been under thirty years of age, and the total evenly divided between first and repeating offenders. At the Federal penitentiary, he said, 1,098 prisoners out of 1,447 were "repeaters," and 62 per cent of all inmates were under thirty years of age. More should be done, Mr. Winch concluded, to help those who were facing life in its most hopeless form.

A LIFE SENTENCE

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 7 (AP).—Circuit Judge Robert Tucker imposed a life sentence today upon Allen D. Brumfield, twenty-seven, convicted of slaying Mrs. Hattie Hooper, sixty-one, nurse, in an attempt to escape from Good Samaritan Hospital on August 19.

What Today Means

"SCORPIO"

If November 8 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until 12 noon; from 2 to 4 p.m.; and from 6 to 8 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m.; from 4 to 6 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m.

Do whatever you have to do quickly this day, for you may receive invitations that are apt to add materially to your happiness and pleasure. Harmonious home conditions will depend on the amount of individual effort exerted to bring them about, so prepare yourself to do your part. Unpleasant episodes that belong to the past, should not be referred to this day, for reviving the memory of them is likely to be tactless. Be alert and you may see something that will more than compensate you for your vigilance. This day's unexpected happenings apparently will be lucky ones that ought to help you. Let your handshake be firm, otherwise you are liable to create poor impressions. Display a willingness to learn and you might learn a valuable lesson that may eventually put money into your pocket. Married and engaged couples, as well as those who are in love will find sympathy a wonderful antidote for the "blues," or any other form of depression.

If you are a woman and November 8 is your birthday, you can't afford to make yourself appear conspicuous through the over use of cosmetics or by dressing in a fashion that will attract great attention. Social ambitions have wrought far more misery than happiness, so you will be wise to center your aspirations on creating a happy home and a congenial circle of friends. You may have the qualifications needed to be a very successful dietitian, that will attract great attention. If you are a man and November 8 is your natal day, worthy thoughts, sane desires, and a high regard for your moral obligations, may enable you to attain the acme of success. Through the display of exceptional ability as an actor, artist, lawyer, architect, statesman, botanist, astronomer, doctor, merchant, business manager, financier or promoter you ought to be successful. Marjorie says that the best one-man band is a wedding-ring.
